

Aida Ramusović
(513) 291 2438
ramusoaa@mail.uc.edu

ACADEMIC QUALIFICATIONS:

Masters in Social politics and strategic direction for sustainable spatial development, University of Bologna, Italy. Scholarship of the Italian ministry of foreign affairs (graduated in 2006)

Masters in communication and media, University of Political Science, Florence, Italy (graduated in 2002)

Four-years University degree in English language and literature, University of Montenegro, Montenegro (graduated in 2001)

RELEVANT EXPERIENCE:

University of Cincinnati, Ohio, US

2019- Doctoral student, Department of Political Science

Research:

2021- University of Cincinnati Space Research Institute for Discovery and Exploration (SRIDE) Fellowship

Title: Title: Can you hear me Major Tom? The U.S. mass media reporting on exploration of space $24,000

Office of Research

Book:

2021- The American Professor Pundit: Academics in the World of US Political Media, Palgrave Macmillan; 1st ed. 2021 edition (July 14, 2021)

Conference:

2021- APSA, Seattle, WA- The Other Big News- BLM in TV Evening News in the Time of COVID

2021- APSA, Seattle, WA- Chair of the panel Democracy Under Pressure: Diverse Perspectives and Approaches

Independent organization for media development

NOMEN, Non-profit, Podgorica, Montenegro (2011- ongoing)

Managing director

www.nvo-nomen.org

Responsible for managing and fundraising of NOMEN.

Oversaw and coordinated management plans, tracked milestones across projects and institute necessary work flow.

Resolved issues that have the potential to jeopardize performance and/or ability of partners to meet agreed project goals; submitted financial and narrative reports to donors, supported strategic development of partners, recommended new development opportunities.

Projects:

Media Editors' Retreat - How to Cover NATO Objectively (finished in 2013)

Donor: US Embassy in Montenegro, $5,000

Reporting counter violence- Journalistic conference and a workshop for journalists (finished in 2015), $10,000

Donor: UK embassy in Montenegro

Capacity building for Montenegro to implement human rights standards in line with EU required reforms through improvement of standards of media (finished in 2016)

Donor: UK embassy in Montenegro, $10,000

Impact of media on CVE in Montenegro (finished in 2018)

Donor: Hedayah organization, $50,000

Ongoing projects:

Dealing with journalistic ethics and fake news in partnership with NGO 35 mm and news agency MINA (finishing mid 2019)

Donor: European Union Delegation in Montenegro, Fund for media, $125,000

Publications and presentations:

Guidelines for journalists on how to report terrorism (2015)

Research: Perception of Security in Montenegro (2016)

Research: Impact of media on Counter violent extremism in Montenegro (2018)

Implementation of the website on ethics in journalism www.mediji.me (2018)

Guidelines on how to recognize fake news (2019)

EU Info Center, Podgorica, Montenegro (2013-2019)

Media Expert

www.euic.me

Directly responsible for monitoring, preparing and digesting news related to the EU issues.

Supported the EU Info Centre team with media intelligence and research analysis.

In charge of providing content analysis or editorial opinion.

McCann Company, Podgorica, Montenegro (2018-2019)

PR Specialist

www.mccann.co.me

Created, planned and executed public relations strategies.

Improved the quality of company's voice via different online and offline channels.

Organized and oversaw events such as fairs, open day, seminars, conferences etc.

Provided effective crisis management solutions in the times of need

Conduct research and analyze public opinion

Ombudsperson for media (2013-2014)

The first appointed Ombudsperson for media in Montenegro in charge of:

Supervising the application of the Ethical code in the newsroom.
Work closely with journalists on implementing ethical norms.
Organizing seminars and training about covering vulnerable groups in the news reporting.
Writing external and internal reports about using the Ethical Code in the newsroom.
In charge of drafting and implementing the internal Code of journalist conduct.
Promoting the Ethical code in live talk shows and news programs.
Regular meeting with the executive branch about using the Ethical code in the television.
Attend conferences and meetings related to the media self-regulatory bodies in Montenegro and usage of Ethical Code.

National television Vijesti, Podgorica, Montenegro (2008-2013)

News producer, TV anchor, Correspondent from United Nations in New York, USA

www.vijesti.me

Responsible for managing a news room of 20+ journalists
Managing journalistic investigative projects in the field of EU affairs, transparency in government, human rights, education, regional projects, art and cultural projects.
Responsible for fundraising of journalistic projects; maintaining media partnerships; working with team on internal rules and strategies.

Radio Antena M, Podgorica, Montenegro (2002-2008)

Journalist

www.antenam.net

Edited and presented the news, attended press conferences, worked closely with representatives of political parties, NGOs and civil sector.
Edited, organized and presented the political talk show "The hot seats".

ADDITIONAL WORKING EXPERIENCE:

British Embassy in Montenegro (2017)

Media advisor and organizer of the H.E Prince Charles visit to Montenegro

Center for Democratic Transition, Podgorica, Montenegro (2010-2018)

Member of the Steering Committee

Government of Montenegro, Podgorica, Montenegro (2013)

Member of the working team on NATO communication strategy in Montenegro

Transitions on line (2003-2008)

Correspondent from Montenegro

ADDITIONAL TRAINING:

US State Department's Edward R. Murrow International Visitor Leadership Program, Washington, Los Angeles, Columbus and Cincinnati, New York (2008)

Radio Popolare, Milano, Italy
Reporting on minorities and security issues (2005)
Internship at Radio Popolare, Milano based political radio station

BBC Course on reporting Terrorism, Tirana, Albania (2004)

LANGUAGES:

English
Italian
Serbo-Croatian